

Cereal Poltergeist

After seeing the video of the animated cereal bowl sent in by AngelsGhosts, I had a really good laugh. I'm not laughing anymore following this life altering experience which I caught on video. I wasn't much of a believer in ghosts until this. Strange things always happen at my aunt's house, and she has maintained it's haunted.

On this day, I sat down for a meal when the lights started flickering. Thinking it was my aunt doing it, I looked across the room at the lightswitch, but it remained on. I quickly grabbed my videocam and started recording it. I had no idea what was about to happen, but it really freaked me out. I don't think it liked me videoing it.
